Walter Cardini, who has worked in the Barre granite district for the past few years, has gone to Hartford, Conn., to continue at his trade.

Miss Cecilia O'Herin of the Barre Candy kitchen left this afternoon for Zanesville, Ohio, where she will make an extended visit with friends.

John Sector, who just recently received his discharge from the U. S. army, has gone to Albany, N. Y., where he was formerly employed by the Standard Oil Co.

The Barre milk producers, at their meeting held Monday evening, took no action on a proposal to increase the price of milk, except to vote to wait another month.

Mrs. Margaret Risor, who has been visiting at the home of relatives in West Chazy, N. Y., arrived this afternoon at the home of her brother, E. Blair, on North Main street.

Mrs. Lawrence Gennett of 4 Central street returned last night from a two weeks' vacation, which she spent with her brothers, B. D. Durett and Winfield Durett of Montpelier.

Mrs. A. B. DeBrune and daughter, Helen, who had been guests for 10 days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. DeBrune of Park street, have returned to their home in Greensboro.

James Watt, who has been visiting friends and relatives in Hartford, Conn., and Haydenville, Mass., has returned to his duties in the Barclay Bros. granite sheds after a 10 days' vacation.

The Col. J. B. Mead circle, No. 1, Ladies of the G. A. R., will hold their birthday picnic Thursday at Dewey park. Bring your box for lunch, also dish and spoon. All who can take the 1:45 car.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Miller, who were recently married in Atlantic, Mass., arrived here last evening and are the guests of Mrs. Humphrey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Burt Humphrey, on Elmore street.

Miss Gladys Webber of South Main street, who has for the past two months been employed as a waitress at the Kaulin house at Lake Morey, is now home for a vacation before returning to high school.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Lyon were called to Peru by the death of Mr. Lyon's father, Mark Lyon, who died from the effects of a shock which he suffered a few weeks ago. The funeral was held yesterday from his late home in Peru.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Dashner and sister, Miss Emma Dashner, of Boston, who have been spending their vacation at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Dashner of Washington street, returned to their home this morning by automobile.

Miss Mary E. McCarthy of 11 Summer street was graduated from the Heaton hospital at Montpelier last Monday, having completed the three-year course offered by the hospital. She took a case immediately upon her graduation.

Miss Elena Barberi, graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music, will be ready to interview prospective pupils in piano and theoretical music beginning Sept. 1 at 9 Brook street. Personal interview between 2 and 3 p. m. or by appointment. Tel. 465-J—adv.

Mrs. William Adams of Washington street left yesterday afternoon for Ansonia, N. Y., to remain until after the Labor day holiday with her husband, who has been employed during the summer months opening the new quarries for the Marr & Gordon firm of Barre.

A party was given last evening at the home of E. R. Davis for Ralph Davis, who is soon to return to the Boston Osteopathic school. There were about 20 of his friends at the party. Music made quite a large part of the program, solos being rendered by the more talented, and a general social time was enjoyed by the party.

Rev. William McK. McKittredge of Delhi, N. Y., who is spending his summer vacation with his family at Lake George, arrived in the city yesterday and will remain over Sunday. He will occupy the pulpit at the First Presbyterian church at both services the coming Sunday as a candidate. No Sunday school service will be held.

Edward Sunderland of Lebanon, N. H., known to many horse fans throughout Vermont and New Hampshire, who at one time owned the fast Al Dillard, has been secured by a Mr. McGregor of Athol, Mass., to drive his fast horses in the circuit races this season. Mr. McGregor, who is the president of the Union Twist Drill Co., retains a string of horses that have records on many of the best tracks in the country.

Next Saturday, Mr. Sunderland will drive Mr. McGregor's Barronetta, 2:04 1/4, against Ben Earl, 2:02 1/4, another Massachusetts favorite, in a match race with $3,000 as the stake, winner to take all. A week from next Friday Mr. Sunderland will appear in the free-for-all race at the Rutland fair.

A broken wrist and two cuts more than an inch long on his forehead were the result of a fall taken by little Aldo Leani, son of Mr. and Mrs. Luigi Leani of 312 North Main street. This accident happened Monday evening as the lad was playing on the woodpiles under the S. D. Allen & Co. sheds at the north end. He ascended to the top of a pile which was about eight feet high and when looking over the edge his foot slipped, causing him to drop to the ground, where he landed upon a large block of wood and sustained the injuries.

The wrist bone pierced the flesh, but the bone was reset yesterday morning by two doctors. The young lad is now as comfortable as possible and able to walk about with the arm in a sling.

A surprise gathering was held at the Baptist parsonage on Franklin street last evening in honor of Miss Amy Huggard, who is spending the summer in Barre with her sister, Mrs. B. J. Lehigh. Fifteen ladies were present, and the evening was pleasantly spent in games and conversation. Miss Ethel Inglis, in behalf of the company, presented Miss Huggard a gift of money, asking her to purchase something to keep in remembrance of the friends who were present. Light refreshments were served.

The party was arranged by Mrs. Frank Woodcock of Hall street. Miss Huggard holds the position of assistant principal in the school for the deaf at Malone, N. Y., and is leaving Barre to-day for a two weeks' camping trip before resuming her duties at the institution on Sept. 9.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Frank Miano and Adolph Comolli motored to Highgate Springs yesterday to camp for a week.

Dance in Howland hall Wednesday evening after band concert. Dancing 9 to 1. Gilbertson's orchestra—adv.

Woolnap blankets and outing flannel-ettes at low prices. Little Dry Goods Store, 5 Cottage street, off Main street.

Miss Margaret A. Ritchie, drawing teacher of the city schools, who has been attending the Berkshire summer school of arts, returned to her home on Beckley hill yesterday. For the past 10 days Miss Ritchie visited with relatives in New York City and Hoboken, N. J.

Salvatore Casselini of the Quarry Savings bank and Joseph O. Casselini of the Reynolds & Sons firm, together with their mother, returned recently from a 10 days' trip to Nantasket and Revere beaches. While away, Salvatore indulged in a little deep-sea fishing that promised great financial returns. A reward of $90 was offered for the largest fish caught during the trip, and for three hours he held the honors with a four and three-quarter-pound cod, but a nine-pounder took the money.

William Alexander, William Jackson, James Sector, Charles Gordon and Dr. Will Page left this morning for Middlebury to attend the horse races this afternoon. Dr. Page's horses, which were shipped from here Monday under the care of Harry Campbell and Fred Gonyo of Royalton, will appear in the races this afternoon with Campbell as the driver. Fred A. Slaxton of Barre will also appear at the races with the horses which took part in the Barre, Waterbury and Essex Junction matinee races.

WILLIAMSTOWN

Earl Hutchinson, youngest son of the late Emma Staples Hutchinson, who has for several years been living in Concord, is visiting his grandmother, Mrs. Mary Staples.

George W. Holden has returned from camping at Pigeon pond, in Marshfield and Groton. He reports good fishing and also the capture of a large hedgehog.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin C. Smith are at their old home on the farm, while their son, Herman E. Smith, and wife are away on a vacation.

Miss Lillian Johnson, who has for some time been employed as trimmer in the millinery store of Mrs. Green at Waterbury, has closed her engagement there and accepted a similar position with Miss Lizzie Townsend of Barre.

Weather permitting, the band will give a concert at Foxville next Friday evening, Aug. 29, probably near Lucas' store.

The school board has engaged Miss Mildred Cady of Middlebury as one of the teachers of the junior high school for the ensuing year. Miss Cady has an enviable reputation as a successful teacher and is also a fine elocutionist.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Lee of Chelsea and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Wood of Tunbridge called on friends here yesterday. Mr. Wood will be remembered as the brother of the late Mrs. Ann White.

Mrs. Laura Boots and her daughter, Miss Caroline Boots, of Great Falls, Mont., who have been the guests of Mrs. Laura L. Ainsworth for some weeks, started yesterday for their home.

Prospects are said to be good for a large attendance of students at the junior high school this fall. This is as it should be, and we trust it will prove true.

Miss Josephine Covell has lately spent a week with relatives at the Covell cottage in Berlin.

Charles M. Seaver, Glen F. McAllister, B. C. Hoyt and Frank Bruce were in St. Albans yesterday, returning from Cambridge, Hyde Park, Morrisville and Store, covering about 170 miles on the trip.

H. J. Martin will be in the village Friday with fish for sale—adv.

On account of the illness of Mrs. Charles Riddell, the R. G. L. C., which was to have met with her next Saturday, will hold its meeting with Mrs. Lesia Bailey. A good attendance is desired, as there is important business.

OUR OLD PARLOR-ROOM.

(By Daniel L. Cady.)

Of tiptoeing through our parlor-room
Of late I often dream;
I see the waxwork flowers a-bloom,
The hanging lamp agleam;
The whatnot still uplifts its head
In polished self-esteem.

The table with the top a-hinge
Is next the closet door;
The mats upon the zinc impinge
And cover half the floor;
I notice where the carpet shows,
It scarcely hasn't wore.

The stove with burnished tube above
And moulded box below,
With maple chunks is still in love,
As in the long ago;
I hear the roaring up the flue,
I see the hearth aglow.

The haircloth chairs and sofa still
Are where they used to stand;
The picture of an English rill,
With sheep on either hand,
Is hanging near the highboy there
As just as grandma planned.

I move a motto frame to see
A-how the paper wears;
It hasn't faded—seems to me,
Except the pinkish squares;
The ceiling still is white enough
As the whitewash stares.

And here is where the preacher stood
Upon that dismal day,
Of widowhood and orphanhood
And tears in long array;
His mournful voice disrupts the dream—
I tiptoe fast away.

FREE INSTRUCTION FOR TREE PLANTING IN FALL

With plans for memorial tree planting this fall on a bigger scale than ever, there is a great demand for information in regard to tree planting, and this newspaper has arranged for you to get free detailed instruction on tree planting by writing to the American Forestry association at Washington. The association will also send you a suggested program for a tree plant-day that will doubtless be of help to many schools and organizations planting memorial trees. The association is registering all memorial trees planted in a national honor roll, and it asks that all planting be reported so it may keep its records complete. There is no charge for the certificates of registration it is sending out.

TO DEMAND MILK OF TESTED HERDS

sions when the plea of poverty was set before the aldermen, but the members held themselves in check, contenting themselves with the statement that the street railway company's bond would cover the cost of its part of the paving. No action was taken, as the previous instructions to the street department had ordered the work done. Alderman McMillan said he expected to go about the work in a short time, and he might have started it this week had it not been for the wet weather. Several of the aldermen gave vent to a feeling of dissatisfaction over the condition in which the street railway company left that portion of Washington street after laying new ties.

Several minor matters came before the board of aldermen. The Fidelity & Casualty Co. reported that the boiler on the steam roller should be washed out frequently; C. D. Palmer's complaint about the condition of Brooklyn street in front of his tenements from 121 to 125 was referred to the street committee with power to act; a bond for M. J. Good was ordered executed; Herbert Cilley's appointment as a special policeman was confirmed, unanimously; James Broa Co. was given permission to move a storehouse on its own land, providing the location is satisfactory to the building inspector; verbal report was presented that the condition of city water on Bassett street will be remedied; complaints about inadequate street lighting on Short street and Keith avenue were referred to the lighting committee; complaint about rowdy tactics by boys near the corner of Brook street and Maple avenue was referred to the street committee.

These bills were ordered paid: Barre Savings Bank & Trust Co., $5,100, school bonds and interest; same bank, balance of interest on bonds, $62.33; street department pay-roll, $422.81; engineering pay-roll, $34.83; water pay-roll, $238.58; firemen's pay-roll, $186.61; policemen's pay-roll, $116.01; janitor, $19; J. F. Spencer, compensation, five weeks, $30; social worker, $18.

The council voted to grant to the Mormons the privilege of holding open-air meetings once a week at the park bandstand, on such evenings as the stand is not in use.
